On the night of April 12, 1966, a number of PLP members had attended a Vietnam Day Committee (VDC) demonstration in front of the Berkeley, California City Hall which had been broken up. A police officer stopped the group because he claimed he heard someone shout an obscene word, and he arbitrarily arrested one of the group. The rest of the PLP group demanded to know what right the officer had to arrest someone on mere suspicion. The officer whistled for aid, and fellow officers, apparently believing that their fellow officer was being attacked, began to drag the PLP members off, including STEWART ALBERT and [REDACTED] and were arrested. VIETNAM DAY COMMITTEE (VDC)

A booklet published by the VDC contained the following policy statement of the VDC adopted by the general membership, June, 1965:

The Vietnam Day Committee is a group of students, faculty and other members of the Bay area community opposed to American intervention in Vietnam, the Dominican Republic and wherever else it may occur. Revolutionary struggles for self-determination are sweeping the world today. American suppression of these movements, we believe, is immoral and a threat to the peace of the world. The Vietnam Day Committee is organizing non-violent direct actions, teach-ins, door-to-door organizing and other educational activities to oppose American intervention. We believe that the struggle for self-determination in other countries is related to the struggle for democracy in America--a democracy in which the people have the facts and the power to make decisions for themselves. The struggles in America against racism, poverty, and bureaucratic conformity are part of the same movement as the struggle against American militarism. We must build a New America and join with those people in Asia, Africa and Latin America building a New World. U

II. PLP AND/OR RELATED ACTIVITIES

Free University of Berkeley

The "San Francisco Chronicle", issue of February 17, 1966, described the Free University of Berkeley as an educational experiment, whose curriculum of non-credit, ungraded courses in a variety of subjects is molded after a similar effort which attracted "new left" writers and scholars to New York City the previous summer. The article concerned the attempts of the Free University to find quarters, which they were finally successful in doing at 2819 Telegraph Avenue, Berkeley. The article noted that classes were scheduled to begin on February 28, 1966. The article further noted that the Free University aims to offer "radical scholarship," not found at conventional colleges. Its catalogue includes such courses as "Revolutionary Thought and Action", "The United States and Vietnam", "Corporate Investment in Latin America" and a "Prospective for U.S. Radicals." U

In the latter part of October, 1965, STEWART ALBERT, who had recently arrived in the San Francisco Bay Area, contacted [redacted] West Coast Organizer for PLP, concerning work on a Free University for the Bay Area. ALBERT indicated that he had been in the May 2 Movement (M2M) in New York, and [redacted] contacted officials of the M2M in New York concerning the background of ALBERT. [redacted] of the M2M, assured [redacted] that ALBERT was "OK", but that caution should be used in dealing with him. U

An article in the "San Francisco Examiner", issue of February 27, 1966, contained interviews of various members of the "new left" as to why they regard the great society with such contempt. Among those interviewed was STEWART ALBERT, age 23, described as the Co-Coordinator of the Free University of Berkeley. ALBERT said he came to Berkeley from New York City, where he was a case worker in the Welfare Department. He said that after experiencing class hostility to the poor in the Welfare Department, he quit and came to the Bay Area. U

A brochure issued by the Free University of Berkeley, listed the courses offered for the first session, starting in February, 1966. STEWART ALBERT, described as a graduate student and activist in VDC was listed as the instructor in a course on "Revolutionary Thought and Action". This course was described as a seminar to discuss the different avenues to revolutionary change and to study the modern revolutionary thought and action. Marxist, personalist, pacifist, and psychedelic perspectives will be considered. Some themes and questions include: the relationship of revolution to brutalization, non-violent action and the overthrow of the reactionary political systems; the necessity of a disciplined party and of post-revolutionary dictatorship. Lenin, Mao, Camus, Guevara, Woodcock, Watts, Dostoyevsky. U literature was sold. During the demonstration, ALBERT attempted to get some other PLP members to challenge members of the American Nazi Party, who were harrassing the demonstrators, and ALBERT also became involved in an argument with another individual and was overheard to state that the PLP was opposed to the Communist Party (CP) and that CP were not revolutionists, and the PLP is the only revolutionary party. The article noted that ALBERT introduced himself to BROWN and shook hands with him and said, "I'm a Communist, PLP." The article noted that the Governor responded, "I've heard about you--you're the Chinese Communist aren't you?" ALBERT replied, "No, he was an American" and asked BROWN if he would like a copy of PL Magazine. The Governor said he didn't have any change and ALBERT handed him a copy of PL Magazine and told him to pay him the next time he saw him. U

In connection with the Subject's arrest on November 30, 1966 an article in the December 1, 1966 issue of the "San Francisco Chronicle", daily newspaper, noted that Alameda County Sheriff's Deputies had arrested nine persons on the University of California campus during a day-long student demonstration. recruiting table being manned there by two Navy officers. The demonstrators protested that not only was the military recruiting allowed but that a student and non-student manning a draft information table had been ousted from the Student Union Building. The article noted that six persons whom school officials believed responsible for the trouble were arrested including STEWART ALBERT of 1930A Blake Street. Three other students were arrested for interfering with officers U in connection with these arrests.

An article in the December 4, 1966 issue of the "San Francisco Sunday Examiner-Chronicle" noted that the Subject was one of ten non-students whom University of California administrators described as the most visible figures in a large group of activists who make their headquarters on the campus. They described ALBERT, age 26, as a former Vietnam Day Committee (VDC) leader, who came to the University of California the previous year after quitting his job as a New York City social worker. He was described as one of the founders of the Free University at Berkeley. He was also described as one time professional wrestler who did not attend the University of California. FTD/slc

The article noted that Berkeley Municipal Court Judge GEORGE BRUNN had imposed a "gag rule" on December 16, 1966 in order that the defendants could receive a fair trial, however, the six defendants were planning to break the order because they claimed it would deny them a fair trial. U

The January 27, 1967 issue of the "Daily Californian" noted that the Subject and three other defendants have been charged with contempt of court for deliberately violating a court order forbidding them to discuss their recent trial involving charges of creating public nuisance and trespassing in the Student Union on November 30, 1966. U

The article noted that the defendants scheduled a press conference and violated the ruling because it hurt their chances for a fair trial. U

U

SF 100-56066
FTD/slc

This individual pointed out that ALBERT's suspicions had been confirmed in that the PLP had, particularly in the area of Seattle, reverted to the old Communist Party line to establish a political alliance between the Communists, liberal pacifists and the Democratic Party. This issue contained an article captioned "New Left Militarism or Old Left Remnants" and criticized the so-called "Foreign Affairs Committee" of SDS composed of STEWART ALBERT and some members of PLP. The article noted that this committee reflected and perpetuated the language and logic of militarism that dominates the United States, the Soviet Union, and China. U

The article noted that the questions that the "Foreign Affairs Committee" asked the Soviet representative reflected the kind of militaristic thinking that SDS as radicals are attempting to change. X

G. Miscellaneous

The "Berkeley Barb", weekly newspaper published in Berkeley, California, in its issue of August 19, 1966, contained an article by STEWART ALBERT captioned "Old HUAC, New Left". The article was satiricle and described the Subject's frustrations in not being subpoenaed by the House Committee on Un-American Activities (HCUA). The article was also critical of the "Old Left" and noted that they built much of their strength on an idealized and false view of Soviet life. U

The "Berkeley Barb" issue of August 26, 1966, contained the second part of this article by ALBERT in which he continued his criticism of the Old Left and the need for a new radical movement. ALBERT said that a new party and political perspective were needed and that independent politics are presently dominated by an old and irrelevant Left. He said that in our own time and in our own way we will bring the new political foundation about and the politics will be radically different. U

SAN FRANCISCO DIVISION

A source advised on August 1, 1960, that the San Francisco Branch of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) was formed approximately in the early part of 1938 and the Oakland Branch of the SWP was formed in the latter part of 1938.

A second source advised on October 26, 1959, that the name of the Oakland Branch of the SWP was changed to the Oakland-Berkeley Branch of the SWP.

A third source advised on April 22, 1966, that the San Francisco Branch and the Oakland-Berkeley Branch of the SWP follow the policies and directives of the National SWP with which they are affiliated.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

STUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us". At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anti-communist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966, issue of "New Left Notes," the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of April 18, 1967, was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE (known in the San Francisco Bay area as the Bay Area Young Socialist Alliance, aka. the Bay Area Committee of the Young Socialist Alliance, Bay Area Committee for the Young Socialist)

SF 100-56066

A source advised on May 16, 1960, that the Bay Area Young Socialist Alliance (BAYSA) was formed in February 1958, as the Bay Area Committee for the Young Socialist (BACYS). At a later state in its development prior to adoption of the name BAYSA, the organization was known as the Bay Area Committee of the Young Socialist Alliance (BACYSA).

The source advised that as a result of a national convention held April 15-17, 1960, at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, the BAYSA became a branch of the national organization to be known as the Young Socialist Alliance (YSA) and will carry out in the Northern California area the policies of the YSA.

A second source advised April 28, 1966, that the BAYSA is currently active and is composed of three locals: The San Francisco YSA, the Berkeley YSA, and the San Jose YSA.

The first source advised on April 28, 1966, that the BAYSA, although ostensibly an independent organization, is in reality controlled by the San Francisco Branch, Socialist Workers Party (SWP) and the Oakland Branch SWP.

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

YOUNG SOCIALIST ALLIANCE

The May, 1960 issue of the "Young Socialist" (YS), page 1, column 3, disclosed that during April 15-17, 1960, a national organization entitled "The Young Socialist Alliance" (YSA) was established at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. This issue stated that this organization was formed by the nation-wide supporter clubs of the publication YS.

The above issue, page 6, set forth the Founding Declaration of YSA. This declaration stated that the YSA recognizes the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) as the only existing political leadership on class struggle principles, and that the supporters of the YS have come into basic political solidarity with the SWP on the principles of revolutionary socialism.

A source advised on May 23, 1966, that the original YSA was an organization formed during October, 1957, in New York City by youth of various left socialist tendencies, particularly members and followers of the SWP. The leaders of this group were the guiding forces in the establishment of the national organization.

The source further advised on May 23, 1966, that the YSA is dominated and controlled on a national basis by the SWP through having SWP members comprise exclusively the National Executive Committee (NEC). The YSA, in reality, is the youth and training section of the SWP and the main source of new SWP members.

The headquarters of the YSA are located in Room 535, 41 Union Square West, New York City.

The SWP has been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

II. ACTIVITIES

A. Activities In Opposition to the Selective Service System

On June 29, 1967, a demonstration was held at the U. S. Army Induction Center, 1515 Clay Street, Oakland, California. Pickets carried such signs as "Hell no, we won't go", "U.S. Get Out of Vietnam", "JOHNSON's War on Poverty--the Rich Get Richer and the Poor Get Shot." At 7:30 a.m. the Oakland Police Department arrested 20 persons for blocking the entrance to the Induction Center. U

A Special Agent of the FBI noted that one of the persons present and participating in this demonstration was STEWART ALBERT. U

One of the demonstrations during STDW was held on April 23, 1968, at the U. S. Army Induction Center, 1515 Clay Street, Oakland. By 7:00 a.m. it was estimated that approximately 1,000 demonstrators were in the immediate vicinity of the Induction Center. During confrontations between the police and demonstrators a small number of arrests were made. STEWART ALBERT was observed by Special Agents of the FBI as he participated in this demonstration.

In the April 22, 1968, edition of "The Daily Californian," there appeared a story on page one concerning STDW activities. The article identified STEWART as a member of the STDW steering committee.

"The Daily Californian" is a campus newspaper published by the Associated Students of the UCB.

B. National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam (NMC)

The NMC was originated at a conference in Cleveland, Ohio, in November, 1966, for the specific purpose of holding massive anti-war demonstrations in New York City and in San Francisco on April 15, 1967. The organization was first titled as the Spring Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam (SMC). Its first Chairman was the noted late pacifist A. J. MUSTE. The founding convention urged all persons interested in the anti-war movement to converge on either San Francisco or New York City on April 15, 1967, to participate in mass marches and rallies protesting United States intervention in Vietnam. East Coast and West Coast headquarters for the SMC were established in New York and San Francisco. The above demonstrations were held. The SMC, however, remained active. Eventually it evolved into the NMC. U

LJN/pae

On August 6, 1967, a West Coast conference of the NMC was held in San Francisco, California. STEWART ALBERT was present at this conference. Among the items discussed was a "Peace Torch Marathon." The Peace Torch Marathon was a plan whereby a torch first lighted in Japan (the only nation which has undergone atomic attack) would be transported to the United States by air and then carried by vehicle or runners from the West Coast to Washington, D. C. STEWART ALBERT had been one of the approximately six persons planning the Peace Torch Marathon. It now developed, however, that other members of the Marathon planning staff wished to exclude ALBERT and three other persons from the planning staff. After much debate ALBERT was excluded from this staff. U

On 8/7/67

b7D

[redacted] has previously advised that ALBERT's exclusion from the Peach Torch Marathon Planning Committee was the result of a fight for control of this committee within the SMC. The battleline was generally drawn between U

Communist Party (CP) elements and their friends on the one hand and elements of the Socialist Workers Party (SWP) on the other hand. The CP people gained control of the Peace Torch planning and then excluded the non-CP members and adherents from the committee. U

The SWP has been designated by the Attorney General of the United States pursuant to the provisions of Executive Order 10450. U

On September 16, 1967, the Administrative Committee of the NMC, held a meeting at Academy Hall, New York City. According to the minutes of this meeting, STEWART ALBERT was among those present. The entire meeting was devoted to planning for the October 21-22 action at the Pentagon in Virginia. The plan for October 21 is generally to march to the Pentagon with as many people as possible from staging areas in Washington D.C. At the Pentagon a rally with noted speakers would be held. Later civil disobedience would ensue. This would take the form of blocking the entrances to the Pentagon on all five sides, thereby preventing people from entering the Pentagon to work. U

[REDACTED]
On 9/21/67

As of September 21, 1967, STEWART ALBERT is on the NMC staff at its headquarters, 857 Broadway, New York City. ALBERT's duties are that of editor of "The Mobilizer," the official publication of the NMC. U

U. S. Commissioner's Docket Number 597
Alexandria, Virginia, contains the following information: ✓

STEWART ALBERT, born December 4, 1939, and furnishing a home address of 13 E. 3rd Street, New York City, was arrested by U. S. Marshals at the mall entrance to the Pentagon at 12:20 a.m. on October 23, 1967. He was charged with "refusing to leave." For this offense ALBERT received a $25.00 fine, a 15-day suspended jail sentence, and six months probation. ✓

The October 20, 1967, edition of the "New York Times" carried an article entitled, "Leaders of SANE Split on Leftists." The article began as follows:

"The National Committee For A SANE Nuclear Policy is split by a dispute over whether to cooperate with extreme left-wing groups in its campaign against the war in Vietnam." ✓

The article went on to state that certain members of SANE were concerned with the cooperation that some SANE leaders had been giving to the NMC. Particularly disturbing to some SANE members was the fact that DR. BENJAMIN SPOCK is a Board member of SANE and at the same time is a co-chairman of the NMC. Near the end of the article the following paragraph appeared: ✓

"The officers of the Mobilization (NMC) have never disguised the fact that several prominent communists were on the Administrative Committee. Among those who have publicly identified themselves as such are the following: STEWART EDWARD ALBERT, Progressive Labor Party..." ✓

A characterization of the Progressive Labor Party is contained in the Appendix attached hereto. ✓

The article then listed other members of the Administrative Committee of the NMC. ✓

PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY

A source advised on April 20, 1965, that the Progressive Labor Party (PLP), formerly known as the Progressive Labor Movement (PLM), held its first national convention April 15, - 18, 1965, at New York, New York, to organize the PLM into a PLP. The PLP will have as its ultimate objective the establishment of a militant working class movement based on Marxism-Leninism.

The "New York Times" City Edition, Tuesday, April 20, 1965, page 27, reported that a new party of "revolutionary socialism" was formally founded on April 18, 1965, under the name of the PLP. The PLP was described as an outgrowth of the PLM. Its officers were identified as [redacted] and [redacted] and [redacted]. A 20-member National Committee was elected to direct the party until the next convention.

b7C

According to the article, "The Progressive Labor Movement was founded in 1962 [redacted] after they were expelled from the Communist Party of the United States for assertedly following the Chinese Communist line".

The PLP publishes "Progressive Labor," a bi-monthly magazine, "Challenge", a monthly New York City newspaper, and "Spark", a West Coast newspaper.

The April, 1967, issue of "Challenge", page 14, states that, "This paper is dedicated to fight for a new way of life-where the working men and women own and control their homes, factories, the police, courts, and the entire government on every level".

A second source advised on September 26, 1966, that the PLP utilizes the address of General Post Office Box 808, Brooklyn 1, New York, but also utilizes an office in Room 617, 1 Union Square, West, New York City, where PLP publications are prepared.

[redacted] stated that the feeling which RUBIN projected to his followers and sympathizers was a plan for "spontaneous combustion" which was to be run and organized by the marshals of the group. It was RUBIN's plan to incite violence, and after the violence was begun it was then the job of the marshals to capitalize on the situation and keep things going by suggestion and heated speeches of encouragement. U

However, when things would seem to calm down and cool off the leaders would take it upon themselves to encourage people to action. One such incident was on Tuesday night, August 27, 1968, when [redacted] got up in front of a group and made an announcement over a microphone to a large crowd of demonstrators. During the speech he encouraged the group to obtain .357 magnums and .45 automatics and get out into the crowd and kill police officers and when the opportunity arose, to kill Mayor RICHARD J. DALEY himself. U

b7C

Another such incident was on Monday night, August 26, 1968, when the Chicago Police attempted to clear the park. On this occasion ABBIE HOFFMAN made a speech encouraging the demonstrators to remain in the park and not be moved. The purpose behind this speech was to create a direct confrontation between the police and the demonstrators. It was HOFFMAN's feeling that only through direct confrontation on as many possible occasions as possible could they win the support of the populace. Therefore, it was HOFFMAN's main contribution to the incidents during this period of time, to keep the people stirred up about the right to stay in the park. Each time the crowd was about to be dispersed HOFFMAN would encourage direct confrontation with the police. U

[ ] stated that the leaders as enumerated above, never met in a group for fear of a mass arrest of all leaders on a conspiracy charge. Therefore, all conferences were held between one and two leaders and never at a given time or location, and said conference matter to be passed along one leader to another. U

b7C

RUBIN on many occasions had personal conferences [redacted] at which time RUBIN indicated [redacted] that it was his objective, if at all possible, to kill all the candidates together with Mayor DALEY. RUBIN seemed well versed on the Communist Party line and referred to Comrade LENIN and MAO TSE TUNG and quoted them freely and seemingly with good authority. RUBIN indicated [redacted] that he strongly believed in communism as the best form of government and he would personally work for the achievement of that end in the United States. RUBIN also indicated [redacted] that their group was too small at this time to accomplish anything significant during the convention week, therefore, it was necessary to dupe the McCarthy followers into following their lead. J

b6
b7C

RUBIN also related [redacted] an awful fear of being arrested by Federal authorities, specifically prior to the DNC, and generally at any time. RUBIN also cautioned [redacted] that in any speeches made by him, never to use the term "I" or "Me", but rather to be general and use the term "We", "Us" and "You." He stated that he felt in this manner prosecution would be difficult or impossible. J

b6
b7C

[redacted] HOFFMAN on Tuesday afternoon, to the best of [redacted] knowledge, met with leaders of the Blackstone Rangers in order to encourage them to come into their organization for disruption purposes. [redacted] was not present at the conference with Ranger leaders, however, was told [redacted] after a conference with HOFFMAN that the Rangers would not affiliate themselves with the Y.I.P. at this time. J

[redacted] stated that all the leaders above enumerated are egotists and each believes himself to be the best leader. [redacted] stated, however, that HOFFMAN was, in his opinion, the "goofiest of the lot" and that RUBIN was probably the best, most capable leader of those he encountered. [redacted] stated that in his opinion there is no doubt that RUBIN is either a member of the Communist Party or is so closely allied with it as to make them inseparable. He stated that RUBIN is calm, cool, and collected in his thinking on most occasions and for this reason presents a greater threat than any of the above enumerated leaders. J

b7C

[redacted]
[redacted] At this time RUBIN stated to Lieutenant [redacted] [redacted] Chicago Police Department Intelligence Division, that [redacted] was, in fact, his [redacted] and RUBIN again admitted this fact on nationwide television the following day. ✓

b6
b7C

[redacted] learned that it was RUBIN himself who encouraged direct association between the Y.I.P. and the Head Hunters motorcycle gang of Chicago and the Hell's Angels motorcycle gang of Los Angeles. RUBIN stated that these groups were needed to augment their own ranks and to have the necessary "fire power" against the Chicago Police Department. RUBIN stated that they were being used as pawns or tools to further the end proposed by the Y.I.P. ✓

On several occasions the news media would contact and notify SDS Headquarters and [redacted] in particular where the live camera coverage would be located at a given time so that the demonstrators could plan a confrontation at that location so that it could be best covered by the news media. [redacted] was also present on at least one occasion when RUBIN directed one of his marshals, name unknown, to contact the news media and advise them where they wished to plan a confrontation with the police so that live coverage would be afforded the incident. ✓

b6
b7C

[redacted] stated that the chain of command within the group was as follows: A leader, as in this case JERRY RUBIN, marshals, followed by enforcers, followed by the rank and file members. He stated that it is the leaders' responsibility to make sure everything is going according to schedule and that enough action is being taken at all times. He stated that it was not the leaders' obligation to come up with ideas to be used against the Chicago Police Department. He stated that these ideas about how to confront the police and make the Police Department look conspicuous and oppressive were the obligation of the marshals which in turn were to be applied by the enforcers. ✓

On occasions throughout the DNC, things did tend to calm down and it was at this point that RUBIN would have to step in and create an incident on which the marshals and enforcers could capitalize. One such incident was on Tuesday night while in the Park - the crowd began to sit down, relax, and sort of fall apart. On this occasion, [redacted] (Last Name Unknown), who drives a green Volkswagen, was speaking to the crowd by microphone. [redacted] indicated to the crowd that it might be a good idea to calm down temporarily. RUBIN overheard this speech and rushed to the microphone and on this occasion directed the crowd to get to their feet and in a fit of rage lost his calm, cool, and collected manner, and directed the people to get out into the streets and to kill the "pigs" (indicating Chicago Police Officers) and to kill Mayor RICHARD J. DALEY. At this time RUBIN directed one of his enforcers named STU ALBERT to go get a live pig and present it to the crowd. The reason this was done is because on prior occasions the presentation of a live pig to the crowd was known to cause a violent reaction. On this occasion the people, in fact, got to their feet and began to yell and scream and when RUBIN saw this happen, he stated [redacted] that this was the occasion to "go for broke," and continued to agitate the crowd, advising them to kill police, fight with police, take to the streets, create disturbances, and create havoc wherever and as long as possible. [redacted] stated that this is the only occasion that he saw RUBIN lose his dignity and it is the only occasion that he heard RUBIN say "I direct you to...", indicating specific acts of violence as indicated above. ✓

b6
b7Cb6
b7C

[redacted] was with JERRY RUBIN, ABBIE HOFFMAN, [redacted] and [redacted] who in his opinion were the greatest agitators. Closely associated with [redacted] and RUBIN was a girl named [redacted] who surrounded herself with a number of good-looking girls. Her purpose was to encourage these girls to associate with delegates to the DNC and, if possible, to associate with candidates themselves and put them in compromising positions. ✓

CG 44-1163

If this was achieved, [ ] pledged support to the young girls and advised them that photographs would be taken and tape recordings made of what transpired and that these girls would be suitably rewarded. [ ] observed some of this photographic equipment and sound equipment and indicated that it was comparable in nature to the best equipment used by law enforcement. [ ] stated that to the best of his knowledge, [ ] was never able to put her ideas into practice, however, a definite overt attempt was made on her part along these lines. J

b6
b7C

CG 44-1163

[ ] stated that he can personally testify and is willing to testify against the four above-stated individuals as to their personal activities of inciting the crowd to riot. During the entire DNC the over-all feeling was that this confrontation with law enforcement was only the first step in a year-long systematic policy of planned confrontation with various police agencies throughout the country. Specifically RUBIN related [ ] that there would be grave trouble and unrest at many universities throughout the country beginning in the fall and that there would be riots every time a political candidate would speak to any sizeable crowd. RUBIN also indicated that there would be riots on election day in places yet to be determined. ✓

b7C

RUBIN attended the Black Panther rally on Tuesday night, August 27, 1968, at which time the above policy of disruption of election procedures was discussed specifically as the main topic of conversation. RUBIN encouraged riots on election day as a symbol of their attack on the very basis of the democratic process. ✓

On every occasion when RUBIN would talk to the assembled crowd he would indicate to them and encourage them to riot and cause civil unrest with the caution that the demonstrators should not spread themselves too thin so that they could be easily handled by the Chicago Police Department. Rather, RUBIN wanted the riots restricted to one very small area of the city, namely either Old Town or in front of the Hilton Hotel, where news coverage could best be afforded. It was RUBIN's feeling that the news media would make the riot at one location look so out of proportion that to the public it would seem that this riot was citywide and had public support. RUBIN allied himself with [ ] on most occasions when they had to encourage the MC CARTHY supporters to action. It was the feeling among all leaders, but specifically among RUBIN, [ ] and HOFFMAN that the MC CARTHYITES must be duped into support of their action. ✓

b7C

CG 44-1163

Prior to convention time RUBIN stated [redacted] that he expected 100,000 demonstrators and/or sympathizers present in the city of Chicago. When it became evident that only 5,000 to 8,000 demonstrators arrived RUBIN attributed this lack of support to the security precautions taken by the Federal, city and state governments. He stated that he specifically believed that half the prospective crowd was discouraged by the very fact that National Guard troops were stationed in the city of Chicago. [redacted] stated that he never saw any leader including RUBIN demonstrate the use of guerilla tactics to fight the police. [redacted]

[redacted] a conference between RUBIN and his marshals and enforcers, at which time it was determined that the guerilla tactics would be saved to be used as their main punch when they moved on to the Amphitheater. The move on the Amphitheater was not scheduled for any point and time; however, when the time was right [redacted] and RUBIN would encourage the march on the Amphitheater and guerilla tactics were to be used at this time. By guerilla tactics [redacted] understood RUBIN to mean the use of guerilla nails, guerilla balls, the snake dance, smoke bombs, gas grenades, and whatever other ingenious techniques could be thought up by the marshals and enforcers. 0

RUBIN, while conferring with his marshals in the [redacted] expounded upon qualities of communism, the communist form of government, and that it was the best and most workable form of government. RUBIN indicated on this occasion, Tuesday night, August 27, 1968, that it was his plan and the plan of [redacted] HOFFMAN, and [redacted] to:

b6
b7C

1. Disrupt the DNC.
2. Embarrass Chicago Mayor RICHARD J. DALEY.
3. Win the support of the news media and thereby
4. Win the support of the people.
5. Make it appear that they (the demonstrators) were right and the underdogs.
6. Make it appear that they were being oppressed. U

[redacted] stated that by mid-afternoon, Wednesday, RUBIN stated [redacted] that it was his belief they had accomplished what they had set out to do, as above stated. At this same time, RUBIN indicated [redacted] that with support such as they saw in Chicago, in the very near future they would be able to institute confrontations all over the United States with local police agencies, and when it appeared that they had enough support, a major confrontation would take place at which time a violent overthrow of the United States Government would take place. RUBIN indicated that when this ultimately takes place, it will be an armed conflict. [redacted] questioned RUBIN as to when this might occur. RUBIN answered this by stating that no deadline has been set, but that when the time was right, the leaders of this movement will know it for what it is and at this time they will lead a spontaneous revolution and take over even the Armed Forces. RUBIN stated [redacted] that their ultimate end was nothing less than armed revolution in the streets of the United States. Toward this end they will use any group, any law, or any issue. To be more specific on this point, RUBIN indicated that civil rights, of itself, was unimportant. However, the civil rights issue could be used as a tool to create unrest and evidence to the people that the minorities in the United States were truly being oppressed, and that their group stood for the opposite maxim. In this way they would be able to achieve public support as the underdog and as being the champion of the U

b7C

CG 44-1163

people oppressed by a police state. RUBIN also indicated that the Viet Nam issue was also a tool being used as is the civil rights issue. ✓

RUBIN and [ ] both directed this type of thinking and encouraged others to think this way at every conference amongst marshals and enforcers. The main theme seems to have been the object of gaining public support, while not letting the public know what their main objective really was. RUBIN indicated to [ ] that they would use anything, anybody, or any group as a tool and as a pawn to achieve this end. [ ] stated that he never saw RUBIN or any other leader actually demonstrate the use or application or making of any firearm or explosive or any device or technique capable of causing bodily injury. However, this was not the obligation of a leader, such as RUBIN. Rather, as previously stated, this was the obligation of the marshals.

[ ] was present on numerous occasions when the marshals would approach RUBIN and [ ] with an idea or a device which could be used to combat the police, cause civil unrest, and/or disrupt the DNC. On each occasion RUBIN would encourage use of these devices, techniques, and ideas by using a statement such as, "Don't tell me about it, make these things and use them." [ ] stated that RUBIN definitely knew of the use of guerilla nails, guerilla balls, stink bombs, etc., and encouraged their use both on a man-to-man basis and publicly by microphone from a stage. [ ] stated that several of the devices which he saw were as follows:

1. A styrafoam ball with nails inserted which would be thrown at charging police, thereby causing injury to them and with the specific hope that it would put out a police officer's eye.
2. A spray bottle with oven cleaner in it which would be sprayed at police at a confrontation.
3. Some type of gas, spray, or grenade which would be thrown at the police.
4. The use of a thick rubber glove which would be used by an individual to pick up a tear gas grenade thrown by the police into a crowd, and to be thrown back at the police. ✓

[ ] was present on at least one occasion when a tear gas grenade was so thrown back at the police. ✓

b6
b7C

CG 44-1163

RUBIN specifically in many speeches encouraged the use of force through mob violence against the police and National Guard. On many occasions [ ] heard RUBIN tell a crowd that when the time was right during a riotous situation someone should personally kill Mayor DALEY, and at the same time encouraged people to kill police officers. RUBIN also specifically incited the crowd to march on the Amphitheater when the time was right, and that he would let the people know when the time was at hand. RUBIN indicated [ ] that by using this method an assassin would not have to be hired but that each and every member of the crowd was a potential assassin. RUBIN stated that the time and place to kill would never be indicated by a leader for fear of arrest on a conspiracy charge. However, he stated that he would wait for the opportune moment, and during a spontaneous outbreak by the crowd, he would encourage action, and he was confident that someone would actually be able to assassinate Mayor DALEY. RUBIN also indicated to the crowd on many occasions that they should learn from the Viet Cong that guerilla warfare works best in small groups in a hit-and-run type technique. He indicated that the police could not move on many small groups acting in this manner, and for that reason, they were relatively safe to operate in this way. RUBIN indicated to his marshals during close conference with them that small bands of guerillas could set fires in the Chicago Loop and blow up the Grant Park underground garage, which would necessitate the calling of large numbers of police officers to the scene, thereby freeing the demonstrators to march on the DNC. U

b6
b7C

[ ] never saw any of the leaders themselves commit acts of violence because they knew the Chicago Police Department had "tails" on each of them and they were all being continually watched for an overt violation of the law. U

b6
b7C

Near the end of the DNC, [ ] went around to different out-of-state leaders, such as [ ] and [ ] and asked that when they returned to their home states they should continue what began in Chicago, specifically, at the universities. RUBIN at a conference on Wednesday indicated that he had travelled to Chicago for the purpose of disrupting the DNC, and that he would travel in the future to cause civil disorders toward the ultimate end of a violent overthrow of the United States Government. [ ] questioned RUBIN about this statement and RUBIN personally and specifically made the same statement [ ] and placed emphasis in it. U

b6
b7C

By Wednesday, August 28, 1968, [ ] was on a very confidential basis with RUBIN and RUBIN confided in him the following: U

CG 44-1163

1. Wherever 20,000 people gather for political purposes, the Y.I.P. would have members there to create a "little Chicago."
2. That if police and Federal authorities pursued the disrupting and disbandment of the Y.I.P., they would go "underground". Toward this end, RUBIN stated that money was being collected as well as weapons and a telecommunications center was being planned.
3. RUBIN stated that the man he was most afraid of was J. EDGAR HOOVER, FBI Director, due to his experienced handling of the Communist Party in the past. He stated that this is the main reason the Y.I.P. might have to go underground.

[ ] stated that when RUBIN spoke of Mr. HOOVER, He used the foulest language coupled with the longest string of foul adjectives he has ever heard to describe the Director of the FBI.

[ ] stated RUBIN would always refer to what was happening in Chicago as "THE MOVEMENT" or "THE PARTYLINE", thereby indicating his affiliation with the Communist Party, USA.

[ ] stated that quite openly RUBIN was contacted by a man who was initially from Poland, and he stated that he was a member of the Communist Party. This man met with RUBIN in the presence of [ ] at Lincoln Park. At this time, this unknown Polish man showed RUBIN a letter from a Communist Party member in New York. This letter did not contain orders but was rather used as credentials for the bearer. Upon seeing this letter RUBIN stated, "Ah, yes, he's a sweetheart." After seeing these credentials, RUBIN put the word through to his marshals and enforcers that this man was to be protected at all costs and at no time should this man be allowed to be arrested.

[ ] questioned RUBIN about this individual. RUBIN answered by stating that this Polish National now lives in London, England, and is employed, as a cover, in some news media, and that this man was acting as the representative of a New York confident.

[ ] would not entrust the name of this Polish National or the New York confident [ ] described this Polish National as a white male, approximately 50 years old, 5'9", stocky build, receding hairline, greying hair, no glasses or mustach, spoke with a heavy Polish accent, and was accompanied by another man who never spoke a word.

[ ] stated that much of the information concerning financial backing of this demonstration was kept from him. However, he was able to determine that each demonstrator was instructed to come to Chicago with $200 in cash. He was able to determine that a telephone number ending in or beginning with the numbers 2267 was the control point of the currency. He was also able to determine that the demonstration was financially in a bad state, because after [ ] was arrested, the persons responsible for his bond came to RUBIN and told him to keep the leaders in hand because bond money was short. U

b6
b7C

[ ] was also able to determine that the people backing this demonstration financially were becoming disillusioned with the potential cost of bonds, attorney's fees, court costs, and overall legal costs to get the leaders from beneath these charges.

.1
b6
b7C

[ ] stated that near the end of the DNC this was a very sore spot and troublesome position for the leaders.

at which time [ ] signed a complaint charging RUBIN with several violations of local and state law. At this time, RUBIN did not deny association with [ ] but rather openly admitted that [ ] was a confidant of his and acted as his [ ]. He stated that [ ] was a good [ ] and he was privileged to have known him. RUBIN again made this statement to the press on nationwide television on Thursday, August 29, 1968. U
